Trainer Try-Out

Your local sports shop has been supplied with a new type of training shoe. The shop wants to find out if the trainers are suitable for sports activities.

The shop manager has asked some young people to try out the trainers and give their opinion.

Imagine that you have tried out the trainers for a week, using them for sports lessons and other outside activities.

Your task is to write a report about the trainers for the local sports shop.

Think about:

- good points about the trainers
- their suitability for sports use
- what could be improved.

First of all, I would like you to think about what the task is asking you to do. How do you think you will report back to the Sports Shop? A report, in the form of a letter, would be a suitable option.

What do you need to include? Think about the

If you write your report as a letter, you will need to think about how you will present your work. You can still use subheadings to help organise your information within a letter (you have used subheadings in previous non chronological reports).

We look forward to reading your reviews of the trainers you have been trying out.

Once you have designed your trainer, we would like you to think about a radio advert to advertise your trainer.

What will you say to encourage people to buy your trainer?

Will you give your trainers a 'catchy' name?

How much will the trainers be? Is there a special offer?

information you have been asked to include in your writing-
Good points about the trainers
Suitability for sports use
What could be improved?

Think carefully about the information you have been asked to report on.

What do you think the good points are/ Remember, this is all down to your own imagination and so you can select your own good points

Eg- nice and colourful – the trainers come in a variety of different colours suitable for girls and boys

The trainers are comfortable – I have worn them for a long time and wear them to walk to school every day. They haven't rubbed or caused any blisters.

Task

Think about the information you have been asked to provide.

I would like you to think of the main points eg, They are comfortable, and then support your point with further detail, as in the example you were given.

Remember, you are just making notes at this point and you don't need to write your ideas as complete sentences.

You can complete your task on the planning sheet attached or you can write your ideas on a piece of paper.

If you are at school on Thursday and Friday, we will be working with your planning notes and it would be really helpful if you were able to mail your work to the Year 6 address. I will print this off for use in school.
